Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde, incumbent city councilmen, received a resounding vote of confidence in the city election on Tuesday when they were reelected for four-year terms.

Doetsch led the field with 1089 votes followed by Hyde with 1060. John Billmeyer gathered 992 and Ted Bauer 532.

The voters rejected fluoridation of water, the advisory question on the ballot, with 1274 "no" votes to 728 on the affirmative side.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan and City Treasurer Velma Olds were unopposed on the ballot.

Less than 25% of the registered voters went to the polls. Only 2008 voted out of 7545.

The City Council will meet next Tuesday, April 19, to canvass the vote and elect a mayor for a two-year term.

Expressway ends at Campbell Ave. ---temporarily

Traffic on the San Tomas Expressway, after its scheduled opening in June, will stop at Campbell Ave., at least until the street-improvement of Budd Ave. is completed in late summer.

That was the decision of the City Council Monday night acting on the recommendation of Bill Wren, city engineer.

In making the recommendation to barricade the expressway at Campbell Ave., Wren explained that expressway traffic dumped on Budd Ave. while that street was being improved would interfere with and possibly delay the construction work on that street.

Wren also suggested that it might be wise for the barricade to remain until the entire expressway project was completed to Winchester, including the overpass. However, the traffic flow after the Budd Ave. job was done would be re-examined to see if that street could adequately handle it.

The city engineer added that by blocking off the expressway at Campbell Ave. instead of allowing the traffic to continue to Budd would make it safer to pedestrians (especially school children) to cross the thoroughfare.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

CLEANING UP and developing the creek area through town has become an obsession to us in a mild sort of way. Maybe you have noticed?

We have been around these parts for nigh on 11 years and we have harped on the potential that the creek offers as far as development into a recreational area for almost that long.

And for the same period almost we have shuddered, along with the rest of you, at the appearance the creek bank has presented to those traveling on the freeway.

The creek, unfortunately, is all that the average freeway traveler sees of Campbell. The impression, you must admit, that the person gets of our town from the freeway isn't exactly awe-inspiring.

WE HAVE LONG believed that sometime in the future, the entire creek area from Vasona through Campbell will be transformed into a recreational development. The potential is there.

But that may not happen for 10 years, more or less.

So the problem, as we see it, is what can be done about the appearance now.

To be facetious, signs could be put up telling the motorists to avert their eyes while passing through town until the area was improved some 10 years hence or so. That's a long time to hold your breath or avert your eyes.

On the other hand, steps can be taken to improve the looks now ...while waiting.

And through the good offices of the city and C. of C. and service clubs and just plain John Does, that's about to happen.

We hope.

ENTHUSIASM shown by city officials in materially aiding in the creek clean-up project as part of the month-long Campbell Clean-Up Crusade has been refreshing.

The city, with the financial aid of service clubs, will furnish 500 trees that will be planted along the creek bank for one-quarter mile from Campbell Park to the city's corporation yard.

The tree-planting project will be part of a clean-up day in which volunteer labor will buckle in with shovels to finally do something about this city's notorious eye-sore.

Maybe only a dent will be made. But it could be a start to greater heights or depths, as the case may be.

And it could be fun, in a sort of far-fetched way, if one can ever call work fun.

A tree will be waiting for you.

Will you and your shovel be there?

Creek 'eye-sore' gets attention

An attractive creek spoiled by debris

For some it make's a handy dump ground

Trees could help this barren bank

Volunteers will plant 500 trees during 'clean-up'

Planting of 500 trees along one-quarter mile of the Los Gatos Creek bank will be the main feature of the first citywide work-day on Saturday, April 23, as a climax to the month-long Campbell Clean-up Crusade, according to civic leaders.

But planting of the trees is just one part of the ambitious clean-up project for the creek area. The overall objective is to eliminate (or at least improve) this community eye-sore which is viewed by thousands daily from the freeway as they pass through town.

Appeals by the beautification committee have been made to all residents, members of the various service clubs and any group or individual to participate in the gigantic work-day program on Saturday, April 23. The stock of trees will be on hand and all those taking part will be invited to plant one of the 500 evergreens. Holes for the trees will have already been dug along the creek before the work day.

First organization to volunteer manpower for the day has been the Campbell City Employees Association. According to Fire Captain John Butterfield, president of the association, this nine-

County to act on drive-in at hearing on April 20

Having had more than a month to study the question after first holding a three-hour discussion on it on March 16 members of the County Planning Commission next Wednesday, April 20, are expected to decide whether a use permit should be granted a drive-in theater just off Union Ave.

Campbell city officials will be on hand to protest the issuance of the permit.

The public hearing on the permit is scheduled for the morning session of the Planning Commission and is estimated to begin at about 10 a.m. The commission convenes at 9 a.m.

Although the property in question owned by Andrew Scorsur, is in the county, it is in Campbell's sphere and the city limits adjoins the 14 1/2-acre parcel which is desired for a drive-in theater. The theater is not compatible with the future plans for the area already drafted, Campbell officials explain.

Under the county M-1 zoning, a drive-in could go on the property with a use permit but it would not be allowed under Campbell's similar zoning.

A large delegation of residents adjacent to the proposed drive-in theater were on hand at the previous hearing. They undoubtedly will be present next Wednesday to protest the issuance of the use permit.

Last year Campbell's Planning Commission turned down a request for a drive-in theater to be located at Campbell Ave. and Bascom, less than a half-mile from the one now proposed which is adjacent to the freeway and off Union and McGlincey.

Traffic to and from the theater will use Campbell streets thus creating a traffic problem, city officials maintain, although their basic objection is that plans for the future of the area will have to be remade, if the drive-in theater is allowed.

Editorial

Crusade needs help

The Campbell Clean-up Crusade for the month of April, climaxing with the gigantic tree-planting project along the creek during the community work-day on Saturday, April 23, will conclude with a free pickup trash service for all residents of the city on April 26. The crusade provides the basic fundamentals which could develop into an annual community-wide celebration.

The "3-C" program could be the nucleus in the future for a community barbecue or picnic, street dance, parade and the whole works. There would be the added advantage that the entire community would benefit from such an event, something that is lacking in many of these community celebration.

What is needed, of course, is the enthusiastic endorsement, cooperation and actual manpower of residents of the city. The common denominator in the program is the cleaning up of the Los Gatos Creek area, long an eyesore to the community.

The clean-up crusade this year is placing special emphasis on doing something about the creek area which, unfortunately, is the show-window in a negative way of the town. In its present state, it is a black mark against the town. But it doesn't have to be as bad as it is now.

The Campbell Clean-up Crusade has the enthusiastic endorsement of the city administration and the Chamber of Commerce. Service clubs and other organizations are officially supporting the program.

But it is the people themselves that need to respond, if the project can be really successful.

There is no other community project, in our opinion, that has the potential or the unlimited possibilities as offered by the "3-C" program.

Every person in the city is affected.

No one in our town can possibly be unaware of the unattractive condition of the Los Gatos Creek area. No matter in what section of the city, if the residents haven't seen the eye-sore, they have heard about it.

Thousands of people travel Highway 17 daily and the impression they get of Campbell is based on the view they get from the freeway. No matter what happens to the rest of the town, if the creek bank is not improved, Campbell's image is bound to suffer.

But no program of the scope of the "3-C" can accomplish much without the people themselves taking hold.

Community pride is an extremely important factor in the advancement, development and improvement of an area. Without this pride, a city must run on three wheels. By the same token, however, the citizens need something in which they can take pride.

Campbell has been belittled for years by people who have no idea how far the city has advanced in recent years. Unfortunately, in many cases the only impression visitors of the area get is what they see from the freeway. And that has not been good.

Whether the "3-C" program will make much of a dent in the Los Gatos Creek eye-sore this year is problematical. There are many privately-owned parcels along the creek that may be a stumbling block in any overall improvement project, unless the owners of the property cooperate.

Yet we have a feeling that a determined effort by a group of dedicated citizens, armed with shovels and trees with the city lending its support both officially and materially, will go far in arousing inherent but dormant pride of the individual property owner.

Tentative plans for an ambitious work-day on Saturday, April 23, in which all residents, large and small, young and old, are invited to take part.

The project calls for a cleaning-up program of the creek area wherever possible. Trash and cans, discarded equipment and debris of all sizes and shapes that long have cluttered the creek area can be eliminated.

Those of you who have not personally visited the area but have shuddered from a discreet distance will be surprised to learn that the creek now flows almost all year long and in what would be a picturesque nature setting.

But now trash and cans and unkempt storage and backyards overshadow any picturesqueness.

It is planned to plant 500 trees along the creek during the work-day, Saturday, April 23. We concede that trees will not screen the area overnight. But they will bank in time.

The 500 trees will be purchased through the combined efforts of the city and various service clubs.

This tree-planting program could be the biggest thing that has hit this town since the day old Ben Campbell laid out the townsite before the turn of the century, if the citizens respond.

The Santa Clara County Flood Control in the near future plans to improve and develop its right-of-way along the new channel of the creek. We sincerely hope that this county agency will expedite its work so to coordinate it with the work of those local citizens who want "to do something" about a spot in town that they have grown tired of hearing about in a derogatory manner.

The program needs the support of all citizens. It is a chance for all of us to work together for a common goal.

How about it, will you help by lending a hand with a shovel attached?

horseback or bike.

But it is quite a fair piece to work along Los Gatos Creek, as a number of "crusaders" will testify.

Your editor was a member of a "scouting" party composed of Mayor Charlie Rose, City Manager Bob Stephens, Park Superintendent LeRoy Black, City Engineer Bill Wren, City Administrative Aide Ed Ravenscroft, Public Works Superintendent Ken Hickman, and C. of C. Manager Jim Duffield, that traversed the creek terrain last week.

The purpose was to see what we were all getting into or out of.

It was startling what was discovered on the jaunt.

PICTORIALLY some of the highlights (and lowlights) were recorded. Some of the shots appear in this issue.

In one instance our party arrived on a scene just as a bunch of tin cans were being dumped over the creek bank to join the hundreds already there.

Water is now flowing in the creek almost all year and a photo of an isolated portion of the creek in its natural habitat brings back fond memories of nature at its best.

Then there is another shot of the same creek with debris floating hither an yon.

That quarter-of-mile hike was a revelation to all of us.

Maybe trees will help screen some of the more unsavory storage yards, that can be viewed from the freeway, including a large group of portable outhouses.

They add nothing, we assure you, to the image of the town.

THE CITY ELECTION is now ancient (one-day) history, as you read this.

But this column was written before the vote. That doesn't mean anything except that any comments we might make on the election would be sort of an anti-climax.

But it is only fair to refer to a criticism of last week's pre-election editorial and news story offered by one of our newest subscribers, San Jose Councilman Bob Miller.

Miller, a fluoridation supporter, took exception to the use of a "bare majority" in the news story and editorial referring to the vote in San Jose favoring fluoridation.

And, you know something, his comment has merit.

Almost 60 per cent of the voters (58.7) favored fluoridation in the San Jose election.

The term "bare" implies "squeaking by".

We agree that any time an issue gets nearly 60 per cent, that is not a squeak.

Sorry about that.

RON THARP, who was president of the Campbell C. of C. when he was transferred by IBM to the east coast, is still an avid reader of The Press as the following note we received will testify:

"Dear George:

I can stand it no longer! What, oh what does this ad mean?

I have noticed it in the "Personals" for several weeks and curiosity has the best of me. If it were not expensive, I would call the number!

I am writing for two reasons; to find out about the "ad" and to let you know that we read EVERY word of your paper.

Sincerely,
Ron Tharp."

WE DON'T BLAME Ron for being confused. The darn ad sounds like a code, unless you knew what the various markets are offering in the way of contests.

The ad, Ron, refers to the "match and win" contest offered by "Mayfair" as compared, for example, to "bonus bingo" conducted by "Safeway".

Now, do you understand the ad?

Some party was apparently looking for a match.

P.S. to Ron: As long as you read this paper 'civer to civer' this is a sneaky way to answer your letter. Greetings --nice hearing from you. --G.V.

member group has enthusiastically endorsed the project and plans to have a large representation on hand in the clean-up project.

City Manager Bob Stephens has also reported that the local postal employees group has indicated interest in the helping out.

Some of the service clubs, it is reported, not only plan to have many of their members on hand, but also will assist in financing the tree-planting program.

Councilman Ed Rogers, chairman of the council's beautification committee, said the clean-up, tree-planting program will concentrate on the creek area from the Campbell Park to the city's corporation yard, a distance of one-quarter mile.

Some of the creek property in the area is privately owned, Rogers said, but it hoped that the owners will cooperate in the program. The purpose of the trees will be to screen some of the worst spots from the freeway, he added.

The creek clean-up, city officials explain, however, is just one phase of the month-long program that is nation-wide in scope.

Tied in with the crusade is the annual neighborhood spring free trash pickup service that is offered by Los Gatos Scavenger Co.

On Tuesday, April 26, the final week of the "crusade", trash placed at the curb by residents within the city limits will be picked up by the scavenger firm.

Trash placed in containers or in boxes or bundles that one man can handle will be picked up.

Another phase of the "3-C", Campbell Clean-up Crusade, includes a general stimulation for all residents and business people to clean-up, fix-up, paint-up their homes and places of business.

The Campbell Fire Department is spearheading the crusade by a concentrated weed-abatement project on vacant lots, a controlled burn program for buildings that have been condemned and accelerated fire inspection to locate spots that can be improved from a fire prevention as well as esthetic point of view.

Although the council's beautification committee is coordinating the program under the guidance of Chairman Rogers and City Manager Stephens, it is a community wide endeavor, city officials point out. Mayor Charles Rose and Councilman Bill Smeed are the other members of the beautification committee.

"Both manpower and funds are needed from all segments of the community", Rogers said, "if this first Campbell Clean-up Crusade is to succeed. It could even develop into an annual event with all the trimmings of a real old-fashioned celebration. We are all aware of the community's eye-sore on the creek. Here is our chance to do something about it. And you can plant a tree while you are doing it."

City Hall bricks

Official designation was given Jerry Vick, 130 S. Union Ave., Campbell, on Monday night by the City Council to act as this city's representative to Vohburg, Germany, Campbell's sister city.

Vick, a resident of this area for 38 years, plans to leave for an extended trip through Europe in May and will visit Voghurg. He speaks fluent German.

In other actions, the council:

--DEFFERED for two weeks action on the troublesome question of how many votes it should take to overrule a Planning Commission decision. In most instances at the present time, a four-fifths majority of the council is required. A proposed ordinance amendment would make a bare majority all that was necessary.

Planning Director Dick Hogan, at the request of the council, reported how five other cities in the county handled the matter (three require only a majority). Councilman Bill Smeed, a member of the 4/5's school of thought, suggested that more cities in the county should be surveyed before action was taken. Although Smeed conceded that he was probably in the minority his fellow council members went along with the deferrment.

--DEFERRED until staff could investigate the request of the San Jose Optimist Club for a flower selling booth to be set up in the parking lot of the Hamilton Plaza during the month of May.

Because the intersection is one of the busiest in the city, the council members were concerned if the booth would interfere in any way.

--ADOPTED two ordinances: One tightened the control on home occupations and the other approved the Planned Development plans of Sutter Hill Development Co. on Hamilton Ave. A Lucky Stores is scheduled to be built at the proposed center.

--DENIED the appeal of Donald E. Kelley, owner of property at 140 Dillon. Kelley was protesting the storm drainage fee and bond for street improvements levied in 1960 as a condition of the building permit that was issued at that time.

--DIRECTED the city engineer to open negotiations with the elementary school district and West Valley College relative to the improving of heavily-traveled Third Street.

--DISCUSSED briefly what should be the city's attitude toward the future plans for West Valley College, especially with respect to what the thinking was of the college board on the making of the temporary (5 to 10 years) campus a permanent one.

--ALLOCATED $300 to be used for the Campbell Clean-up Crusade.

Board names group to pick college name

The Board of Trustees of West Valley College voted last week to set up a 14-man screening committee to study the 74 names proposed for the Santa Clara campus, and to choose five for presentation back to the Board for a final name selection by that governing body itself.

To be named to the screening committee are two members of the board itself, two members of the administrative staff, two members of the faculty, four representatives of the students to be named by the Student Senate, two representatives of the College Advisory Committee and two representatives from the Santa Clara area to be designated by the Santa Clara Chamber of Commerce.

The Board action came after a motion to table the naming of the campus until after a bond election was defeated by a 4-3 vote. Board members differed on whether naming the campus ahead of an election would help or hinder the bond vote.

In another action, the Board approved a proposed purchase of 17 acres at the Saratoga campus site from Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Bergues for $260,000. Cost includes improvements valued at $26,-250, and it brings the total land area at the Saratoga site already purchased to 129 acres.

Morris Burman Cabinet Shop, Inc. is an ultra-modern manufacturing operation, housed in an efficient, well equipped plant at 864 McGlincey Lane here in Campbell. But still the spirit and pride in workmanship of the cabinet maker of old prevails and every article turned out bears the hallmark of the true craftsman.

From this shop has come quality interior cabinet work for custom homes as well as the apartments and subdivisions that this rapidly growing area requires. The Burman organization also produces store fixtures to specification and is responsible for many of the finer installations in the area.

Morris Burman heads a staff of efficient, concientous craftsmen and by the consistent production of quality work as well as by a reputation for reliability and personal integrity has won for his firm a prominent position in its field.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Your first pay check next month will be smaller because your withholding tax will be greater. As a result millions of Americans will be "loaning" money to the "Great Society" without interest.

It also means that those with middle incomes who itemize their income tax deductions will be forced to bear the brunt of fighting inflation while the "Great Society" goes merrily on spending more money in its new programs.

In the last fiscal year Americans overpaid their taxes through withholding by $4 billion, 865 million. At an interest rate of 5%, this amount would have earned more than $120 million in interest.

In the State of California, citizens who overpaid their tax through withholding would have been entitled to almost $18 million, and in the San Francisco region they would have gotten more than $6 million.

After May 1 withholding rates, particularly for those in middle income brackets who itemize deductions, will increase across the nation by still another $1.24 billion.

When one considers that if he is late paying his income tax he is required to pay a penalty plus a healthy rate of interest to the government, it would seem that turn-about would be fair play, and Uncle Sam should be forced to pay interest for what he collects and is not due him.

This is why I am supporting legislation, offered by Representative Melvin Laird (R-Wis.), requiring payment of interest on overwithholding.

The reason for the new increase in withholding is to resist inflation. This was candidly admitted by the House Ways and Means Committee in its report on the recently passed Tax Adjustment Act.

On March 30, one of the top ranking members of the House Committee on Education and Labor, Congressman William H. Ayres (R-Ohio), rose to speak on the Poverty Program. First he quoted Mr. Sargent Shriver, Director of the Poverty War, in congressional testimony given in March 1964 when he was asking Congress to authorize the program.

"It (the War on Poverty) is also a prudent program. It is financially prudent...It is prudently planned in that every dollar allocated will be spent to help the poor. There will be no leakage. There is no contemplated huge new bureaucracy..."

Then Ayres proceeded to compare Mr. Shriver's statement with what actually happened. "According to President Johnson's 1966 Budget", he said, "it will take 6,484 permanent Federal employees to run Mr. Shriver's burgeoning bureaucracy--a poverty empire costing $53,489,000 in salaries alone! The word has gotten around among civil servants in Washington that 'the big money is in Poverty'. Few know how big it is.

"1,557 permanent Federal poverty employees will make $10,619 or more; another 1,032 'community action workers' will be paid $10,000 or more from Federal funds; an undetermined number of contract employees in 15 privately-run Job Corps establishments will be paid over $10,000.

"We have over 200,000 gallant men in South Vietnam," Ayres continued, "but there aren't as many as 2,500 drawing $10,000 a year --the basic pay of an Army Colonel with over 14 years' service. The poverty war includes at least 25 individuals who will be paid more than base pay of General Westmoreland himself.

"Astronaut Neil A. Armstrong, who with Lt. Colonel David R. Scott flew our most recent and most dangerous space mission, is a Federal civil servant grade GS-16. His job is one of incredible difficulty and danger, for which only a handful of men in the whole world are qualified. Yet 25 of Mr. Shriver's bureaucrats are budgeted for GS-16 positions; and 36 others are budgeted for even higher pay grades...

"The U. S. Office of Education is budgeted for $3.478 billion compared to $1.724 billion for the Office of Economic Opportunity, yet the Office of Education will need only 2,861 permanent employees compared with OEO's 6,484 permanent employees.

"If the U. S. Office of Education were administered like the Office of Economic Opportunity, it would require 12,968 employees to spend its $3.478 billion, or four and one-half times the number it has budgeted.

"We don't know how many, if any, poor people have been helped to get out of poverty by Mr. Shriver's high-priced agents, but it is pretty obvious that thousands of employees have been kept out of poverty!...".

Ayres finished his remarks by quoting the Chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, Congressman Powell. "Congress appropriated this money to help the poor, not create a monolith of extravagantly paid functionaries."

YOUR BEST INVESTMENT - A VELVETY GREEN LAWN

The appearance of your property depends greatly on the quality of your lawn, suggests the California Association of Nurserymen.

To maintain the velvety green appearance that enhances the value of your home may be a source of pride and satisfaction, or a devil in disguise, depending upon the maintenance routine adopted by the owner. Here are a few suggestions:

Because of the long dry period between spring and fall rains, watering is of paramount importance with California lawns. Frequency and amount of water depends upon their exposure to a wide variety of climates.

A lawn situated in the interior valleys, where the temperatures range in the 90's during summer may require watering every day, whereas a lawn exposed to the cooling ocean fogs may need irrigation only twice a week.

Best way to test the turf in your lawn for presence of moisture is to pull a "plug" with a putty knife to learn the efficiency of your watering "system".

If the soil is dry in the root level, better step up amount and frequency and length of time of application. If the soil is moist through the root area, your system is working.

Every time you water your lawn you will be leaching out some of the food from the fertilizer you applied, so you are going to have to feed oftener during the summer periods of stepped-up watering.

"Slow release" foods, preferred by many California gardeners, spread the feeding over a longer period during peak irrigation months. Usually they are "fortified" with some quick-acting chemical nitrogen so that you see "greenup" a few days after application.

There are also liquid foods available to remedy lapses in your program, possibly caused by a summer vacation. These may contain soil penetrants that take the food quickly to the root area.

Effectiveness may be noted within 24 hours. However, these are not the kind of materials you will need for the long pull - just remedies to get the velvet back into the lawn after a period of neglect.

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. My wife is 63. I am 62, working full-time, and earning too much to receive benefits. Is there any way my wife can qualify for monthly benefits?

A. Not unless she has worked under social security and can qualify on her own record.

Q. My father died in November 1964. My youngest sister is 19 and plans to go to Memphis State University this fall. Can she receive social security benefits?

A. Yes. Since your father was insured under social security, your sister can qualify if she attends school and if she has not married.

Q. I have been separated but not divorced from my husband. I will be 60 in October. Am I eligible to get social security on my husband's record? Also, can I get hospital and medical insurance?

A. No. You may qualify for a wife's benefit when you reach age 62, provided your husband receives benefits. You must be 65 to qualify for hospital and medical insurance benefits.

Q. I am a physician and I understand the new Social Security Law covers my earnings from the practice of medicine. When is this effective?

A. For your first taxable year ending on or after Dec. 13, 1965. If you file on a calendar year basis, your earnings for 1965 will be covered for social security purposes.

W.V. College Symphony Concert here Thursday

The West Valley College Symphony, directed by noted conductor Cesare Claudio, will present a concert at the Campbell High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 14. Featured will be guest artist Myrra Mosher, violinist.

Claudio, one of the great cellists of the United States, has been studying the instrument since the age of nine under William Dehe, principal cellist of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, and in conservatories in Naples, Rome, Venice and Florence.

He had earlier made his debut in San Francisco and served with the San Francisco Symphony under the baton of famed Pierre Monteux.

Miss Mosher has appeared on coast-to-coast radio and television, is a former member of the Seattle Symphony and is currently with the Santa Clara Philharmonic.

She is currently engaged in directing and teaching. She will appear again this summer with the San Francisco Symphony "Pops" concert under the baton of Arthur Fielder.

CONCERT SOLOIST -- Myrra Mosher, violinist, will be the featured guest soloist with the West Valley College Symphony orchestra tomorrow night, April 14, at the Campbell High School Auditorium. Cesare Claudio will conduct. The public is invited.

Versatile Miss Campbell fills in as secretary

After 19 ribbon-cutting ceremonies, innumerable breakfasts, banquets and luncheons, Miss Campbell of 1965-66 says she would do it all over again. According to Glynis Wright, the year has passed all too quickly and on April 23 she will relinquish her crown to the next Miss Campbell.

The 19 year old brunette has represented The City of Campbell with dignity and grace and made us all proud. Those of us who attended the Santa Clara County Fair will recall she was one of the princesses there.

Jim Duffield, manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, has found that Glynis has other attributes besides a pleasing personality and a trim figure. She has been pinch-hitting as secretary in the Chamber office, since Cynthia White resigned last month.

Although she attends San Jose State College, Glynis puts in five days with the Chamber of Commerce, as receptionist and typist. Her warm smile and friendly manner are the welcome every C of C office should have.

Although Glynis possesses a beautiful soprano voice, and could, no doubt, make a place for herself in the entertainment world, she has decided to become an airline stewardess.

She will complete one year of study at San Jose State College in June, and expects to take a position with an airline in September. She hopes to see a great deal of the United States in the next year or two. In the meantime, she will be getting more business experience at the Chamber office.

A native of South Africa, Glynis has lived in the US since she was six. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wright, 1373 Phelps Ave. A graduate of Campbell High School where she was an honor student, Glynis was very active in the drama and music departments. Whatever she does, we know Glynis will be a success.

WEARS TWO HATS-- Glynis Wright, Miss Campbell of 1965-66, is also pinch-hitting as receptionist and secretary for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce. Read her interesting story in the adjoining columns.

Cancer drive begins with kick-off dinner

With Hugh O'Brian, stage, screen and television star, as the honored guest and speaker, the Santa Clara County Branch of the American Cancer Society, will kick off its annual county-wide crusade at a dinner at Lou's Village on Wednesday, April 13, at 6:30 p.m. O'Brian is California state chairman for the crusade.

Wilbur G. Durkee, dinner chairman, said that some 300 volunteers will gather to launch the 1966 fund appeal which will enable the society here and throughout the nation to save thousands of lives from cancer.

Other leaders participating in the kickoff are Joe Candeias, county branch vice-chairman in charge of crusades; Berkeley Mathews, county branch chairman; Bert Legg, county crusade chairman; Kenneth Newfarmer, kickoff dinner vice-chairman, and Mrs. Ronald Rimkus, residential coordinating chairman for San Jose.

The need for additional volunteers has been emphasized by Chairman Legg.

Junior Gardeners bring color to Vasona Park

A group of "conservation-minded" youngsters, The Camp Belles Jr. Garden Club, gathered at Vasona Park recently to improve their patriotic garden planted on the banks of Vasona Lake.

The Juniors replaced plants and shrubs in anticipation of a colorful red, white and blue garden this spring.

The plants are purchased by the Senior Garden Club and planted by the Juniors. The High School Garden Club also replaced plants the same day.

A barbecue was held after the garden was completed. An exchange of small containers with flowering succulents were given to the Juniors for Easter as a gift for their mothers. Juniors are to make duplicates or using their own ideas, make tray favors, corsages and other decorations.

The Camp Belles and Baby Roses Jr. Garden clubs are interested in horticulture, natural resources, conservation, flower arranging, civic beautification and nature study. These two groups consist of 59 members. They are also members of Girl Scout Troop 603. This past year they have gathered material and made books of their outstanding achievements.

The convention of California Garden Clubs Inc. will be held in San Diego this May, and the Juniors have applied for six awards. The Juniors are planning a new and exciting year with their counselor, Mrs. Joseph Aversente and co-chairman, Mrs. Debbie Puma.

A surprise party for Mrs. Sullivan

Friends and neighbors of Maggie Sullivan (Mrs. Patrick J. Sullivan) of 2289 Wren Way joined together last week to surprise her with a shower, as she is expecting her seventh child soon. Instead of the usual baby shower, however, they planned one with a new twist, a "Mommy" shower. Mrs. Sullivan received many lovely gifts of wearing apparel for "after baby comes".

The party was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Hess on Wren Way, and she was assited by Mmes. Nina Bowren, Yvonne Tougas, Carol Martinek, Darlene Neilsen, Carol Garcia and Louise Connolly. After the gifts were opened a midnight supper was enjoyed by the guests.

Among those present were Mmes: Shirley Osburg, Val Raineri, Peggy Poulson, Linda Jones, Marion Martin, Mary Romeriz, Jean Cairo, Irene Young, Leola Geddes, Henny De Haas, Ann Stephens, Eloise Lee, Earline Cleveland, Beverly Sedlacek, Peggy Calton, Charlet Pigula, Marilou Minks, Roberta Lone, Shirley Hess, Nina Bowron, Yvonne Tougas, Carol Martinek, Darlene Neilsen, Carol Garcia, Louise Connolly and Patty Sciboula.

She accepted the gavel from out-going president, Mrs. Minnie Snyder, at a colorful installation tea held in the Fireside Room of the Congregational Church of Campbell. Mrs. Merrill Mack, senior past president, was the installing officer.

Officers elected to serve with Mrs. Brannon are Mrs. John C. Jackson, first vice president; Mrs. James E. Grossman, second vice president; Mrs. Ray McConaughey, third vice president; Miss Violette Costabel, recording secretary; Mrs. Earl Brothers, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Falconi, treasurer; Mrs. Merrill Mack, senior past president; Mrs. Minnie Snyder, junior past president; Mrs. Fred H. Income tax official lists common errors

Common errors in filing Federal tax returns complicate the processing of taxpayers' refunds, according to Joseph M. Cullen, district director of Internal Revenue for Northern California.

Single errors on returns delay refunds and cause taxpayers trouble.

Cullen suggested this simple checklist: 1. Check arithmetic. 2. Attach all Forms W-2. 3. Sign your return. (Both husband and wife should sign a joint return.)

4. Print or type name and address, and write figures plainly. 5. Use correct tax table. 6. Total your deductions if you itemize on page 2. 7. List your Social Security number correctly. (Both husband's and wife's number should be reported on joint return.)

You can save your government as well as yourself valuable time and money by carefully checking your 1965 tax return before you mail it.

State income tax office to stay open late

All permanent offices of the Franchise Tax Board will remain open until 6 p.m., April 15 to assist last minute taxpayers with any problems, according to M.C. Johnson, manager of the San Jose office of the Franchise Tax Board.

State income tax returns postmarked after April 15 will be subject to a penalty of five percent per month up to a maximum of 25 percent for failure to file on time, he said.

Taxpayers needing assistance in filing their returns should contact the San Jose office of the Board.

Pacific Telephone writes out check for S. C. County tax bill

Pacific Telephone has paid Santa Clara County the second and final installment of a $6,664,464.51 property tax bill, according to local manager, G. L. Sicard. The city tax bill for Campbell was $6,057.96.

This year's tax is $527,041.64 more than a year ago, an increase of 8.6 per cent. It is up $2,735,944 over five years ago for a total increase of 69.6 per cent. In the 1960-61 fiscal year, total tax payment was $3,928,-520.

Louis A. Lopes, Santa Clara County tax collector, received a check for most of the final $3,332,232.25 installment ($3,265,-541.81). A similar installment was paid in December.

From the $3 1/4 million installment, taxes for general county, school and special district purposes amounted to $2,862,640.96.

Lopes also accepted city taxes for Alviso, $282.29; Cupertino, $1,562.74; Gilroy, $534.20; Los Altos, $6,576.13; Los Altos Hills, $326.05; Los Gatos, $640.35; Milpitas, $8,354.08; Morgan Hill, $1,182.91; Mountain View, $28,-589.43; San Jose, $250,413.09; Santa Clara, $45,859.46; Saratoga, $380.17, and Sunnyvale, $52,141.99.

Palo Alto collected its own tax of $52,-141.99.

The past year marks the seventh straight that Pacific Telephone is the largest property taxpayer in the state. The telephone company surpassed PG&E in that category in the 1959-60 period.

The company's total property tax bill in California for 1965-66 was $120 million, a $5.4 million or 4.7 per cent increase over last year and $38.7 million or 48 per cent increase over five years ago.
